3 Realms of ACEs

ACEs Connection accelerates the global movement to prevent and heal adverse childhood experiences (ACEs), and supports communities to work collaboratively to solve our most intractable problems. Left unaddressed, toxic stress from ACEs harms children and families, organizations, systems and communities, and reduces the ability of individuals and entities to respond to stressful events with resiliency. The ACEs in these three realms intertwine throughout people's lives, and affect the viability of organizations, systems and communities.

Historic and Generational trauma

- Wilmington's Ugly History of Racism
- 1898 Massacre
- Never resolved, hidden from population

2019 Needs Assessment

- 1) Addressing Intersection of Culture and Trauma
- 2) Better Connection of Families to Services
- 3) Providing and Sustaining Support to Organizations towards becoming Trauma-Informed
- 4) Creating a Sequence of Activities to Move from Awareness to Action
- 5) Addressing Workforce Stress
- 6) Creating a Common Language around Trauma
- 7) Strategic Planning and Creating Logic Models

2 years post-Hurricane Florence

- 864 students (K-12) eligible for McKinney-Vento (Homeless) services
- Over 152 homes on waitlist or under construction with local rebuilding ministries
- 582 people on caseload for case-management services

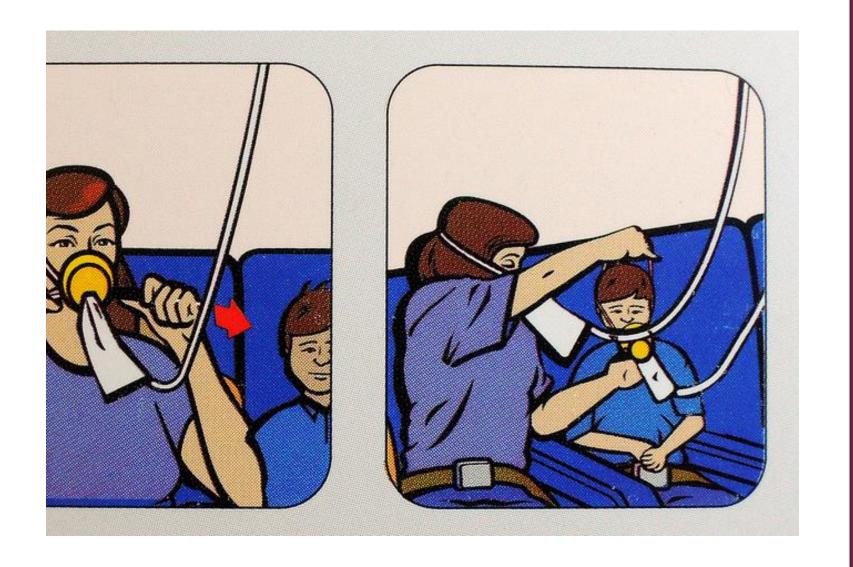

What are we doing now?

"You can't pour from an empty cup."

We know that significant mental health needs didn't show up until 4-9 months after Hurricane Florence.

Bracing for impact post-COVID and the Trauma of Exposed Racial Trauma:

- Schools in the fall
- Increased over-doses, substance abuse counseling needs
- Lining up community gatherings for conversations with law enforcement – trusted members/leaders from community of color to lead
- Child abuse
- Domestic violence
